AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD MASS. 20th Dec. '55.
DR. J. C. AYER: [illegible] best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness [illegible] symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use [illegible] for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M.D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq. of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself [illegible] and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people. HIRAM CONKLIN, M.D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, IA., writes: [illegible] had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; [illegible] made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend.

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA. [illegible]
SIR: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS.

A. A. RAMSEY, M.D., ALBION, [illegible] Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March [illegible]
DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until [illegible] this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well. Yours, with gratitude and regard, ORLANDO SHELBY, of Shelbyville.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all round us bespeak the high merits of its virtues. — Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. [illegible] every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for the use and certificates of their cures of the following complaints: —

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

The Lessons of the War

The San Francisco Bulletin has some remarks upon the fluctuating reputation of our Generals, which are worth reading in the absence of the news, if all that is stated cannot be endorsed, without qualification. "Most of the idols that we had set up during the past two years have been smashed—the men in whom we trusted we have been taught to mistrust, yet the war goes on; the area recovered to the Union is enlarged daily; the tough knots that seemed Gordian are dissolved as we approach them. When the war begun, we had but one General, so famous, so experienced, so identified with our history that the nation turned to him with perfect confidence that whatever he undertook he would carry to a successful issue. But Winfield Scott was soon shelved quietly and with honors. In his place loomed up McClellan, Scott's own pet. No victory East or West or on our most Southern border could occur but an admiring country saw in it the skill and strategy of McClellan. There was no defeat but proved that McClellan had not been quite enough trusted by the authorities. Suddenly that idol was broken before our eyes, and no one was ever hoisted into his place. At one time the Army of the Potomac, at another the Army of the Mississippi, because its Generals, being further away from the centre of political intrigue, were at greater liberty to exercise their judgment, was to save us. The northeast believed that Fremont was the coming man. Gifted with the instinct of a mountaineer, he read the heart of the people earlier than the rest, took up the cry that they would soon utter, and seemed to have given the keynote of the doctrine that was to win. But Fremont's recklessness of expense, and the troop of wolves that hunted in his company, soon exposed the hollowness of his patriotism and the selfishness of his gang. He was pitched overboard. The Radicals groaned at the sacrifice, but speedily acquiesced in his removal. Grant, after his great victories on the Cumberland, went under a cloud, from which he but slowly emerged into brighter fame and a more enduring honor than ever. Pope was the hero of all pens while at the West. At the East he subsided into a braggadocio, who lost us a campaign. Burnside did nobly in North Carolina, proved in Virginia, that in his modesty he more truly appreciated himself than did the War Department, and in Tennessee is gloriously improving the reputation which no man yet has been found able to maintain at the head of the Army of the Potomac. Hooker perpetually surprised his acquaintances by his successes—in his failure he only justified their preconceived opinions of his ability. Of Meade there were no great expectations. He has astonished all thus far, by his strategy—if the rumors of his removal should be confirmed to morrow no one would be amazed. Rosecrans experienced a wonderful immunity from adverse criticism. From the time he relieved Buell until the battle of the Chickamauga, a gentle breeze of adulation was perpetually puffing his army and its commander. He did what was appointed for him to do, slowly but surely. He cleared out Central Kentucky and Tennessee, moved down his lines to the boundary of Georgia, gave us command of the chief railroad system that had been in the hands of the rebels, was met by the armies of apparently the whole Confederacy, and his advance checked. A portion of his army there was routed, while another portion saved the day. The blame of the defeat of the centre was laid on his subordinates McCook and Crittenden, when suddenly, like a clap of thunder out of a clear sky, the news comes that Rosecrans—whom we had not got over speaking of as a general who never lost a battle—was removed, for most heinous offenses. Whether the charges are true, or only assume their formidable aspect because McCook and Crittenden—on whom it was at first understood that the loss of a victory at Chickamauga was charged—are men of great influence in political and military circles is all in the dark. But that Rosecrans, like McClellan and Buell, and Burnside, and Fremont and the rest, walks the plank, is an established fact.

"It is most amazing of all how Halleck who gained no laurels lying before the empty trenches of Corinth and was promoted to be commander in chief without a trumpeter to sound his praise, holds through heat and cold, storm and sunshine, victory or defeat, his own in the department. He was slow himself but he admires swift despatch in others. He brought ridicule upon himself for his excessive caution at Corinth, but he thrust McClellan and Buell out of place because they imitated him, and now Rosecrans's chief sin is precisely his own fault. In all these changes the people acquiesce with less and less grumbling, feeling that they know too little of the facts to justify them in criticism. They know their cause is just—they see it gaining in strength while the enemy is weakening and his area contracting. They have entrusted their cause, under Heaven, (whose cause it is,) to the Administration of Washington. The Administration is given the widest liberty to choose its own agents, to remove them when it thinks them incompetent. But the Administration is itself on trial. At [illegible] Portland [illegible] will be [illegible] with [illegible] If [illegible] the [illegible] people, the [illegible] will then surely come out. We believe it feels its responsibility is acting from the highest motives of patriotism, making here and there a mistake, but intending right and generally doing right. If this is so, it will not go unsustained through the dread [illegible] of [illegible] in [illegible] the most [illegible] much [illegible] causes of events [illegible] to be [illegible] honest rush [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] the Administration [illegible] people [illegible] truth [illegible] be [illegible] We hardly [illegible] of the Administration [illegible] themselves. If they are discovered to be just and worthy, it will receive the highest praise for sustaining our [illegible] otherwise, selfish, and the Administration itself will speedily bow before the vengeance of a betrayed and trusting people."

Additional Eastern News

From the Sacramento Union we have the following additional news:

NEW YORK, Oct 24.—The World's special dispatch says: The Chronicle announces that Gen. Meade says our army cannot move for three weeks on account of the destruction of the railroad. Meade, not being able to get through with his business with the President in time, did not return to the front till yesterday morning. It is authoritatively settled that he is not to be superseded.

The Herald's special dispatch says: It is rumored that Lee has sent two more divisions to support Bragg, and that he is withdrawing the rest of his forces behind the fortifications at Fredericksburg.

Gen. Gregg's cavalry advanced on a reconnoissance yesterday to within two miles of the Rappahannock and returned to camp without finding the enemy.

Last night a brisk fight was had with Mosby's guerrillas at Fairfax, in which several were killed and a number taken prisoners. Among the latter is Jack Barnes, a notorious scoundrel who has been three times in our hands and released upon taking the oath of allegiance.

KANSAS CITY, Oct 23.—Advices from Gen Ewing's expedition in pursuit of Shelby's rebels have been received. After marching 71 miles in 24 hours Ewing entered Carthage on the morning of October 18, where he expected to encounter Shelby's whole command, but the latter had passed that point the night previous for the Neosho, leaving thirty men to collect the stragglers. These were captured with their horses, arms and equipments. Among the prisoners are Major Pitcher, and other officers of several Missouri regiments. Throughout the pursuit, especially for the last fifty miles, the road was lined with Shelby's broken down horses, the fresh ones stolen having been substituted. He has no transportation or artillery, and does not keep on the roads, rendering pursuit at night very difficult.

Reports from scouts prevail that Marmaduke is advancing from Fayetteville to reinforce Shelby.

LOUISVILLE, Oct 23.—Richardson's guerrillas 400 strong made a raid into Bardstown last night, capturing the town, burning the depot, a locomotive and a train of cars, robbing the stores and citizens, and cutting the telegraph wire.

The Lebanon train, escorted by a guard, came through this forenoon. The rebels had torn up the track, but did no further damage.

CHICAGO, Oct 24th.—The dispatches a few days since announced the important fact that Jeff Davis had found it necessary to prohibit British Consuls from exercising their functions and to order them to leave the Confederacy. The quarrel out of which the dismissal grew originated with Fullarton, British Consul at Savannah, who had instructed his countrymen that they might, if drafted, acquiesce in any service required of them so long as it was confined to a defence of their homes, but that when brought into actual conflict with the forces of the United States, it was their duty, under the Queen's proclamation of neutrality, to throw down their arms and refuse to render service. This position was stoutly maintained by Fullarton in a lengthy correspondence with the rebel Secretary of State, and indorsed by all other diplomatic officials, as above stated, on their being ordered to withdraw from Secession.

CAPE RACE, Oct 23d.—The Ætna from Liverpool Oct 14 and Queenstown Oct 15th, has arrived.

The Paris correspondent of the London Post asserts that France has no intention of recognizing the Southern Confederacy.

A guard of marines had been placed on board of the rams seized in the Mersey. The Times says nothing is yet certain regarding them. They are, however, suspected of a demonstration like that of the Alabama, but will not be allowed to slip off as she did.

GOVERNMENT FINANCES.—The New York Evening Post of Oct 1st says:

The condition of the National finances was never better since the war began than at the present time. Mr. Chase does not allow himself much margin in the way of surplus money, but under his system he needs but little. If at the end of any week he discovers that his income is a little short, he has the remedy at hand. The issue of half a million debt certificates per day will make up the deficiency, and these certificates are easily absorbed at the money centres.

Mr Chase could resume specie payments to-morrow if he desired. His gold income from duties is now not much less than $100,000,000 per annum. It takes but $50,000,000 of this to pay the interest of the public debt, leaving over $50,000,000 in the Secretary's hands. This would be sufficient to justify a resumption of specie payments. It is not expected, however, that anything of the kind will occur, for various and obvious reasons.

Under the act of the late Congress Mr. Chase has power to issue $500,000,000 of 5-20 bonds. More than $250,000,000 have been taken by the public, and it is believed by those who have the matter in charge that the demand from the public will certainly exhaust the entire amount of bonds which the Secretary is authorized to issue.

GOOD IF ODD.—The Shakers at Lebanon Springs, N. Y., among their rules relative to visitors have the following:

Married persons tarrying with us over night are respectfully notified that each sex will occupy separate sleeping apartments while they remain. This rule will not be departed from under any circumstances.

A friend says he was reading this to a married lady, when she innocently remarked, "How foolish that is, ain't it?"

A lady correspondent of the Home Journal says: "Let crinoline be punished, and we may carry the stump still farther"—to [illegible] may be!

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to October 27.

NEW BERN, N. C., Oct. [illegible].—The publication of the Standard was resumed on the 2d. The editor, W. W. Holden, still maintains his opposition to the Confederate Government.

An election of members to the rebel Congress takes place November 4th.

A prominent citizen who recently arrived from Raleigh states that at a recent consultation of the Southern Governors and rebel statesmen at Richmond, Governor Vance, of North Carolina, was offered the next Presidency of the Southern Confederacy provided he would whip the old North State into line and keep her in the traces. Governor Vance returned to Raleigh a fierce war man, and will do his utmost to prevent the State from returning to the Union.

BALTIMORE, Oct 24.—A large Union meeting was held in Talbot county, eastern shore of Maryland, on the 22d. Addresses were delivered by Hon. Henry Winter Davis and Judge Kelly, of Philadelphia. The latter gentleman announced himself to the crowd of slaveholders as a Black Republican from Pennsylvania. Yet his speech was received with applause. This is the first instance of a Republican Congressman speaking in the slaveholding region of Maryland. Kelly's reception was most strikingly enthusiastic.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Gold to-day very unsettled, opening at 50 and closing at 48½.

The bark Urania, from the Cape of Good Hope, August 28th, reports that the bark Seabridge, of Boston was captured by the Alabama in sight of the harbor. She also reports the capture of the bark Anna in sight of Boston.

The Herald's Washington special says the repairing of the Orange and Alexandria railroad will require several weeks.

A dispatch from the Army of the Potomac, dated October 24th, says: The infantry are in unfaltering picket lines and the cavalry brigades are daily making reconnoissance.

WASHINGTON, Oct 25.—A stock train from Gainesville, Va., on Friday night was thrown off the track about four miles from Gainesville, by the giving way of the ties. About 25 persons were wounded but none killed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—A special dispatch from Headquarters dated the 26th says: The enemy's infantry reached the Rappahannock this morning, having a pontoon bridge, near the Orange and Alexandria railroad, driving back Gen. Gregg's cavalry division, which lost heavily. They had a short engagement with two brigades of our infantry—one belonging to the second corps and the other to the third. The enemy now occupy a line the left of which rests near Beverly Ford, crossing the railroad near Boulton Station and extending toward Stafford Court House. Col. Denver's brigade, of Buford's command, had a severe fight this morning near Boulton Station. Among the killed in Gen. Gregg's command is Major Taggert of the 2d Pennsylvania Cavalry, formerly of Gen. Kilpatrick's staff. He was shot through the knee, which was so badly shattered as to render amputation necessary; death ensued in a short time after the operation.

FORTRESS MONROE, Oct 25th.—Charleston dates to the 22d say there has been no new movement yet. The Yankees are reported to be putting finishing strokes to Gregg. The fleet remains quiet. A stormy time is expected soon.

The same paper says the number of Yankee prisoners in Richmond is 11,200. The following dispatch also appears, signed by General Imboden: "I attacked the enemy at Charleston, Shenandoah Valley, on the 19th and captured 443 prisoners."

CINCINNATI, Oct 26.—General Rosecrans arrived to-day and was escorted to the Burnett House by an immense crowd. He was enthusiastically welcomed. The General spoke briefly, saying as to the manner he had been used that he desired to leave that to the future. He stated that Generals Crittenden and McCook assured him that the published accounts that they intended to bring charges against him were false, and that since the battle of Chickamauga he had received letters from the President approving his conduct in that affair.

NASHVILLE, Oct 25.—No news of importance from Chattanooga.

Second Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct 26.—The Navy Department has advices that the steamer Tennessee captured British schooner Friendship, laden with munitions of war, and sunk another named Zane, from Nassau off Rio Grande. Two rebel powder boats have also been blown up on the coast of Louisiana. The Pon hatona, from Havana, with a cargo of gunpowder, was destroyed on the 8th October, by the gunboat Cayuga.

The Richmond Enquirer of October 24 denounces the Democratic party of the North as a sectional party, and declares that if it ever found itself in power it would become a war party. The same paper says the Yanks had all left Kanawha Valley, the main body reinforcing Burnside.

NEW YORK, Oct 27th.—Money firm at 6@7, chiefly at latter figure. Sterling dull at 159@160. Gold unsettled, opening at 48, and closing at 48¼. Government stocks firm.

WASHINGTON, Oct 27th.—By late declarations of exchange issued by rebel commissioner Ould, it appears that the difference between the Governments in respect to numbers is some 10,000 more than before, and probabilities of speedy exchange or adjustment is so much further removed.

CHICAGO, Oct 27th.—The public debt on the 1st September was one thousand, two hundred and thirty-two million, seven hundred and seventy one dollars ($1,232,000,771).

NEW YORK, Oct 27th.—A special dispatch to the World, dated Washington, 26th, says that advices from the front to-day show that recent reports to the effect that any considerable portion of Lee's forces had crossed the Rappahannock for the purpose of assuming the offensive were considerably exaggerated. The rebels maintain a bold front along the Rappahannock and seem determined to resist the further advance of our forces. If Lee should essay to recross to this side he may not find another advance towards Washington so easy as was his last. Skirmishing to-day was lightly kept up.

The following is from rebel papers:

CHICKAMAUGA, Oct 21st.—To Gen. Cooper: The following dispatches have been received: The cavalry under Imboden [illegible] attacked the enemy's cavalry in force at Philadelphia to-day, capturing about 400 prisoners with their artillery, small arms, camp equipage, &c. Our loss is nothing. They are entirely routed.

CHARLESTON, Tenn., Oct. 21.—The enemy were pressed to their defenses at Loudon and arrived there after dark; their force is not known. Their loss is 70 (or 700) prisoners, five wagons loaded with stores, 10 ambulances, six pieces of artillery, horses, mules and other property.

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Oct. 26th.—Heavy artillery firing at the extreme front, appearing to be near to and left of the Potomac, has been heard to-day at intervals. It ceased about 5 p. m. The presumption is that it was another artillery and cavalry fight. The infantry may have been engaged.

WASHINGTON, Oct. [illegible].—The Star says no information has [illegible] of an engagement between the two armies of the Rappahannock have come in [illegible] since Saturday last.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The Memphis Confederacy of the 24th says the [illegible] negro insurrection in [illegible] county [illegible] is more serious than was at first supposed. A large number of negroes were implicated. Their organization was [illegible] and their plan was laid to [illegible] The same paper says that officers [illegible] General [illegible] was an intelligent [illegible] He was Major General of the forces and had [illegible] when [illegible] where he was arrested. They were [illegible] and are now infesting the [illegible] county. A number of leading leaders have been arrested and lodged in jail.

BROWNSON'S STATE POLITICS.—In a speech at Philadelphia on the 28th September Professor Orestes A. Brownson said:

The war is not a calamity. Nations have gone out and expected to abolish slavery in [illegible] the war will not cease until the [illegible] made in the North [illegible] It has been our misfortune that has allowed the South for thirty years to grumble on our love of the Union. Men can be neutral in these times. He who [illegible] and is neutral when he sees the Union [illegible] is more than neither. The neutral is [illegible] a traitor; he is a coward. I have no sympathy with a party that seeks to come into power through peace. Give the rebels peace and you give them independence. The Copperheads are deceived. Some of their leaders expect but a temporary secession. The South has no such idea. They have used the Northern Democrats how they can and in future to treat them can be seen by the Richmond papers. They will keep between them and the world and then hold their noses. This Union once dissolved can never be restored. We must elect such men to office as will push the war and maintain the Government.

A SUBSTITUTE.—Mr. Jones—"You know, my dear, that I am liable to conscription, and in case the habeas corpus should fail that—that"—

Mrs. Jones—"Don't give yourself a moment's uneasiness on my account, Jones; if you can't find a substitute I have no doubt that I can."

THE JULIA COCHRANE.—We congratulate our friends who chartered this vessel, on her safe arrival at last, as she was towed up the Columbia river by the Jane H. Couch on Saturday night. Her freight is wholly consigned to Leonard & Green and A. M. & L. M. Starr. They have set an example of direct importation from the manufacturers which we should like to see always followed, as we never could understand why the consumers of Oregon should be compelled to pay a profit to the merchants of San Francisco, who doubtless are very good men in their way, but equally doubtless they are very worthy men in our [illegible]. We hope every Oregon merchant, who has capital enough to do business, will seriously consider this matter, and if this is done we have no doubt we shall have a line of monthly packets from Boston and New York to the Columbia river—if it had been done ten years ago, Portland would have been millions dollars richer.

PANORAMIC PANORAMA.—Pender & Co.'s exhibition, under the above title, is advertised for to-morrow evening, Nov. 3rd, at the Willamette Theatre, for which occasion the musical services of the Portland Mechanics Band are engaged. The proprietors claim that it is one of the finest panoramas ever witnessed in any part of the world, showing every battle that has been fought from the commencement of this bloody and dreadful rebellion. It was the long and tedious work of twelve months and the outlay of $9,000 (it covering 7,000 feet of canvas). It has been brought to such perfection that you would almost imagine you were on the battle field itself.

FURNITURE EMPORIUM.—We took a stroll on Saturday through the sales and warerooms of Messrs. Hurgren & Shindler, importers and manufacturers of furniture and upholstery. They have just removed to Holmes' new building on First street, corner of Alder, and display a very fine assortment of goods in their line. Their factory is still continued at the old place.

SCHOOL TAX.—We are informed the valuation of property in School District, No. 1, embracing the whole city proper, is $3,236,860. The school tax, of one mill on the dollar, is to be collected immediately, and will raise the sum of $3,236.86.

GOLD DUST.—But $30,000 in dust came down on the Hunt Saturday night. Wells, Fargo & Co. had $15,000, and other parties $15,000.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—The Oregon Steam Navigation Company hold an annual election of Directors at 10 o'clock this morning.

OVERLAND MAIL.—The impression has somehow gained that the schedule time of the Overland Mail Contract is extended to twelve days after the 1st of November. This is an error. During the present month, the stages are required to come through from Sacramento in ten days. The extension is granted from the 1st December.

LETTER LIST.—The list of letters uncalled for during the month of October, will be found on our fourth page.

THE STEAMER.—The Pacific, which has been momentarily expected since Friday evening, had not arrived as we went to press this morning. It is reported that she was seen on the bar Saturday, if so, she probably kept on to Victoria.

PROTEST AGAINST BISHOP HOPKINS' DEFENSE OF SLAVERY.—Bishop Potter and some of the Episcopal clergy of Philadelphia have published the following protest against Bishop Hopkins' recent letter in reference to Southern slavery:

The subscribers deeply regret that the fact of the extensive circulation through this Diocese of a letter by "John Henry Hopkins, Bishop of the Diocese of Vermont," in defense of Southern slavery, compels them to make this public protest. It is not their province to mix in any political canvass. But as ministers of Christ in the Protestant Episcopal Church it becomes them to deny any complicity or sympathy with such a defence. This attempt not only to apologise for slavery in the abstract but to advocate it as it exists in the Cotton States and in States which sell men and women in the open market as their staple product, is in their judgment, unworthy of any servant of Jesus Christ. As an effort to sustain, on Bible principles, the States in rebellion against the Government, in the wicked attempt to establish by force of arms, a tyranny under the name of a Republic, whose corner stone shall be the perpetual bondage of the African, it challenges our indignant reprobation.

THE TESTIMONIAL TO McCLELLAN FORBID.—An order from the War Department has effectually the proposed subscriptions for a testimonial to General McClellan started in the Army of the Potomac. To bring the matter into ridicule subscriptions were about being started for testimonials to Generals McDowell, Burnside and Hooker by the friends of those officers, but an order from the Secretary of War rendered such counter movement needless.

PACIFIC DISBURSEMENTS AND INCOME.—The expenditures [illegible] the total amount on the Pacific coast during the past nine months have been [illegible] while the total receipts [illegible]

SOLDIERS' AID SOCIETY.—[illegible] Sanitary Aid Society will [illegible] at the residence of [illegible] o'clock [illegible]

ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER No. 3.—There will be a [illegible] convocation of [illegible] Chapter [illegible] this (Monday) evening [illegible] M. M. Degree. R. A. Masons in good standing are [illegible] invited to attend. Per order of the M. E. H. P.

Losing a Lover

BY EMILY HUNTINGTON MILLER

(Concluded.)

"I am sorry," said Squire Taylor at the breakfast table next morning, "that I find myself obliged to send Fred away on business to-day, but I dare say Lucy will do what she can to entertain you till he comes back."

"Delightful!" thought Weston himself—"a whole day without dragging up and down those everlasting trout brooks, or tramping through the brush after imaginary partridges and rabbits, that never were there and never will be."

So with many assurances that there was not the least danger of his having a dull time, he watched Fred ride away on his pony, snapped his fingers as he closed the gate, and went back to the house to propose to Lucy a ride to the romantic little lake they had told him so much about. Lucy was good enough to say she would be delighted to go, but sundry household matters would detain her half an hour or so. In the meantime her cavalier brought the carriage to the door, looked with habitual caution after every strap and buckle of the harness, and then went up to his room, with a masculine idea that a woman's half hour was a very indefinite period indeed.

Now the room directly under his was occupied by an ancient spinster, a distant relative of the family, called by way of courtesy Cousin Barbara. This Cousin Barbara, having one of those shivery natures that never seems to get comfortably warm, insisted upon keeping up her stove all the year round, and as the pipe passed up through the floor of Weston's room on its way to the chimney, it formed, as you can easily imagine, an excellent conductor of sound—a regular speaking trumpet. Weston knew he should be sure to hear Lucy when she left her room, so he made himself perfectly easy, and had nearly finished writing a letter when he heard her door open, and her little feet go pattering down the stairs. He was just folding when her voice caught his ear from the room below.

"Oh, Cousin Barbara, your needle is always threaded; just put a stitch in one my gaiter here. I can't find my thimble, and I mustn't keep Mr. Weston waiting."

"I should like to see the time," said Cousin Barbara, tartly, "when you could go any where without stopping to mend something or other."

"Oh, well," said Lucy, pleasantly, "your occupation would be gone if you hadn't me to mend and scold."

The only answer was a sort of growl, and in a moment there was a kind of "spind" as if the article to be mended had been tossed upon the floor. This was followed almost instantly by an excited exclamation:

"For mercy's sake, Lucy Taylor! you aren't going riding with them ragged stockings on?"

"They won't show through my shoes," was the quiet answer, "and I haven't any better ones."

"S'pose you should get turned over, and sprain your ankle?" said Cousin Barbara ... stalking aroun... Any way, you'll know they're ... yourself and ... before I'd wear a hole to ... my shoes. I'd have them full of—of—"

"Coals of fire," suggested Lucy, with an aggravating li...

Poor Weston ... heard every word of this colloquy, felt so ashamed of himself that he could h... look Lucy in the face, but she looked ... and sweet and beauteous as a morn... with the dew still wet upon it.

"I am safe from ... ," thought Weston, as he hand... into the carriage, "no danger of my c... myself to-day."

...everything, and make myself and Lucy miserable for life.

So Henry Weston came no more to Ardley, and the village gossips looked and waited in vain for tokens of an approaching wedding at Squire Taylor's. After a while they settled down to the conviction that the promised match was really given up, but the wisest of them never could conjecture why Lucy Taylor lost her lover.

... Oct 25 — A stock train from Gainsville, Va., on Friday night was thrown off the track about four miles from Gainsville by the giving way of the ties. About 25 persons were wounded but none killed.

NEW YORK, Oct 26.—A special dispatch from Headquarters, dated the 26th, says: The enemy's infantry reached the Rappahannock this morning, having a pontoon bridge, near the Orange and Alexandria railroad, driving back Gen. Gregg's cavalry division, which lost heavily. They had a short engagement with two brigades of our infantry—one belonging to the second corps and the other to the third. The enemy now occupy a line, the left of which rests near Beverly Ford, crossing the railroad near Boulton Station and extending toward Stafford Court House. Col. Denver's brigade of Buford's command had a severe fight ... morning near ... be putting finishing strokes to Gregg. The fleet remains quiet. A stormy time is expected soon.

The same paper says the number of Yankee prisoners in Richmond is 1,200. The following dispatch also appears, signed by General Imboden: "I attacked the enemy at Charleston, Shenandoah Valley, on the 19th, and captured 443 prisoners."

CINCINNATI, Oct 26.—General Rosecrans arrived to-day and was escorted to the Burnett House by an immense crowd. He was enthusiastically welcomed. The General spoke briefly, saying as to the manner he had been used that he desired to leave that to the future. He stated that Generals Crittenden and McCook assured him that the published accounts that they intended to bring charges against him were false, and that since the battle of Chickamauga he had received letters from the President approving his conduct in that affair.

NASHVILLE, Oct 25.—No news of importance from Chattanooga.

Second Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct 26.—The Navy Department has advices that the steamer Tennessee captured British schooner Friendship, laden with munitions of war, and sunk another named Zane, from Nassau, off Rio Grande. Two rebel powder boats have also been blown up on the coast of Louisiana. The Ponchato from Havana, with a cargo of gunpowder, was destroyed on the 8th October, by the gun-boat Cayuga.

The Richmond Enquirer of October 24 denounces the Democratic party of the North as a sectional party, and declares that if it found itself in power it would become a war party. The same paper says the Yankees have all left Kanawha Valley, the main body reinforcing Burnside.

... Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follow

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those direful diseases,

'INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION.'

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess.

THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

And the melancholy deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.
